

Jerome Stockwell is a Senior Data Officer who loves to tell stories with data and turn it into value-based outcomes!

He has an impressive history of results-driven IT and Data transformation with a proven record of solving complex business problems and driving positive outcomes. Respected for subject matter expertise in data and business intelligence. Known as a bridge-builder who takes time to pursue innovative, creative solutions to problems and optimize resources to achieve the core mission by earning key stakeholder's confidence and establishing a positive, compassionate culture.

Verifiable success in improving internal processes, identifying and mitigating risk, and retaining talent. A persuasive communicator who engenders trust while leading and developing high-performance teams and mentoring others.

He has strong contract development and negotiation skills that helps to create strategic relationships with a supply base, and vendor management.

As a certified talent optimization consultant, Jerome has a knack for finding, attracting, landing and retaining talent. He aligns that talent to strategic goals of the organization, which creates high performing teams and a culture of collaboration.

In addition, Jerome serves on the Board of Directors of The Gift of Music Foundation in Marietta, Georgia

Jerome resides in Kennesaw, Georgia with his wife and two sons. He is passionate about all forms of music and entertainment, and I have helped over 300 artists, producers, photographers, and graphic designers achieve their dreams.